THEME

As Americans, one of the most cherished heritages handed down to us from our forefathers is a stalwart devotion to the principles of liberty and democracy for which they fought and died — at Lexington — in the snows of Valley Forge — on the field of Gettysburg. It is a heritage of courage, one of love of nation. From those heroic sacrifices the America of today has been built.

As Americans, it is our privilege and duty to carry on that heritage that we may pass on to coming generations an even greater and stronger America. We believe in the American way of life. This way, created by a composite of the farm, of the factory, of the school, of the church, and of the home, forms a unity which no disaster will shake and no danger can weaken.

We believe, therefore, that in this year when those ideals are so gravely challenged, we should strive to portray in these pages the role of the school in preserving and perpetuating our democratic life.

THE STAFF

DEDICATION

Again, within a generation, the American people are called upon to defend the principles of democracy and the way of American life in a great war against forces that would seek to destroy these ideals.

Again, the sons of West High School, together with millions of other American youth, have been called to the colors. They have gone willingly to serve their nation in her hour of need. This we would expect since they are true Americans. They serve on the land, on ships of the sea and of the skies, at home and on far-flung battle fronts.

To those sons of our Alma Mater who have so courageously gone forth to defend with their lives, if need be, the liberties of all free men everywhere, the students of West High School humbly and proudly dedicate this volume.

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on these tablets something that will brighten all eternity."

ARSENAL OF DEMOCRACY

For, O America, our country! Land
Hid in the west through centuries, till men
Through countless tyrannies could understand
The priceless worth of freedom — once again
The world was new created when thy shore
First knew the Pilgrim keels; that one last test
The race might make of manhood, nor give o'er
The strife with evil till it proved its best.
Thy true sons stand as torchbearers, to hold
A guiding light. Here the last stand is made.
If we fail here, what new Columbus bold,
Steering brave prow through black seas unafraid,
Finds out a fresh land where man may abide
And freedom yet be saved?

HOMEROOMS

West High is justly proud of the spirit of citizenship developed among its student body. We believe that this spirit of good citizenship in no small way is created in the homeroom organization. Here the student is given opportunity to learn by actual practice the principles of American democracy in government under the careful guidance and counsel of the homeroom teacher.

As much as textbooks, lectures, and lessons, a high school education is an orientation to life problems demanding appropriate traits of character. Leadership, executive ability, and dependability are developed through the small group in which every student has a chance to participate. In this system he remains in the same homeroom throughout his high school career, thereby acquiring a high sense of loyalty to the group. Likewise, in a smaller group, much more opportunity is offered for the formation of lasting friendships, which would not otherwise be possible in as large a student body as ours.

Library Assistants

Library assistants are a group of students who are interested in library work and who are chosen because of this interest and because of their dependability and proficiency in this type of work.

DRAMATIC MANAGERS

Barbara Shirey, Mr. Solar, Phyllis Young.

Dramatic Managers

A senior student dramatic manager and a junior student assistant dramatic manager are each year appointed for the purpose of assisting Mr. Solar, faculty manager, in the business arrangement of all public performances. Their main duty is the distribution of tickets.

Towel Service

Volunteer workers among the student body who are dependable and reliable are chosen for the Towel Service group. They are responsible for the distribution of towels to the physical training classes and checking them in at the end of each period.

Athletic Managers

The organization and checking out of equipment, as well as keeping records of all players, are the main responsibilities of the athletic managers. They serve also in the capacity of trainers and give a great deal of assistance to the coaches.

Cheer Leaders

The success or failure of pep meetings rests in no small way on the shoulders of the cheer leaders. Continued enthusiasm at games is also their responsibility. Their importance in the success of an athletic season cannot be minimized.

SPECTATOR EDITORS

SPECTATOR

Our future newspaper editors . . .

Students who plan to enter the journalistic field are aided by participation in active publication of a newspaper, the Spectator.

The editors-in-chief, aided by assistants, are in charge of the make-up of the paper. They write headlines, plan the pages, and see that the printer receives full instructions.

The business staff supervises finances of the paper. This is done chiefly by advertising solicitation from the local merchants. Valuable training in salesmanship is this department's main asset.

Two-year Spectator veterans, having completed necessary requirements, are eligible for membership in Quill and Scroll, national journalism society.

The Spectator, a six or eight page paper published every two weeks, has a circulation of nine hundred copies.

The staff of the paper is selected by tryouts. Miss Verna Emanuel is adviser of the staff.

The principles of democracy in practice . . .

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate, established in 1928 as the Student Assembly, consists of two representatives elected from each senior homeroom and one representative from each junior and sophomore homeroom. It is the one organization officially recognized as representing the student body in its participation in school affairs.

The organization strives to promote greater school spirit, more extensive participation in student activities, higher aims in scholarship, and more cooperation between students and faculty in the improvement of the school. It strives to develop leadership and to help carry through such all-school projects as may arise.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

For the adaptation of students to a commercialized world . . .

The Commercial Club fosters the development of commercial work and its allied subjects. The purposes of the club are to perpetuate high commercial ideals in the high school, to develop school democracy, and to promote cooperation with community clubs and organizations.

This club offers facilities for acquiring valuable knowledge of business and the requirements of the profession for developing ability in the stenographic art. Through its meetings, discussions, and classes, valuable general information is also acquired.

GOETHE VEREIN

The language of scientists is an important one today . . .

The first year German Club is active in promoting a better understanding not only of the language but of the music, history, geography, literature and mythology of the German people.

The Jugendblatt is a publication of the German students containing stories, jokes, editorials, and personal observations of the various club members. The staff of the paper has as editor, Joan Peterson; art director, Bob Steely, and reporter, Carol Dunham.

SCHILLER VEREIN

Students of second year German make up the membership of this club. Their activities are similar to those of Goethe Verein. The completion of their course of study is climaxed by a banquet.

TOUS ENSEMBLE

For the study of the language of Voltaire and Rousseau . . .

Tous Ensemble is the name of the West High French clubs, to which all members of the French classes belong. The name, which means "all of us together," signifies a close comradeship of students who are endeavoring to know better the French people, their lives and customs, and the significance of their idioms in our own language.

The constitution of the club is modeled after the national document of the Third Republic.

The clubs meet during the class period, at which time the program is devoted to reports on some phase of French life and culture, to songs, puzzles, games and plays.

EL CIRCULO ESPAÑOL

Students of second year Spanish are members of El Circulo Español. The club has taken up the study of each of the Pan-American countries during this year. Flags of the different countries have been made and are used to decorate the Spanish classroom.

This year the club has been particularly fortunate in having a number of speakers who have traveled in or lived in Spanish-speaking countries.

Club members correspond with students in the various countries of Central and South America. Thus they receive valuable experience in the use of the Spanish language. They have enjoyed helping to further the good neighbor policy and have formed interesting friendships.

Officers of the club the second semester are:

El presidente.....Beverly Burd
Los vicios-presidentes.....Lois Herzberg, Bill Seger
El secretario.....Dorthy Nagle

PHILOMEL

Music touches the hearts of all . . .

This advanced vocal group is composed in the main of upperclassmen who have had fundamental training in previous years. A spring recital climaxed their year's work.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

An outlet for the soul of man . . .

This group was under the capable direction of Mr. Robert McCowen, who was once a member of this same organization. Two varied assembly programs publicized their accomplishments of the year.

CO-OPERATIVE

The Co-operative Part-Time Department is completing its seventh year in West High School. There have been more than 350 students who have received sales and office training on an applied or practical basis. The Co-operative Training Program enables the student to divide time between school and the job, and to concentrate on related subjects.

The Number One problem of today is how to earn a living after leaving school. Statistics show that the percentage of unemployed among C. P. T. trainees is consistently lower than that found among graduates who have not had vocational training.

A survey shows West High's Co-operative students engaged in various fields — some specializing in one department of sales or office pursuit, and some gaining experience in several branches of training at one time. The student's placement in the field is dependent upon abilities and preferences. Fifty-seven employers have cooperated in the program since the beginning of our department.

The C. P. T. department sponsors a number of social functions throughout the year. Highlighting them all is the Alumni banquet and get-together. This year found many alumni serving with the armed forces and the banquet theme honored those in military service. The letters from these absent members were circulated among the various classes at the banquet tables.

C. P. T. students number many as they pursue their production routine in the store and office, helping to carry on the vital war effort from day to day in an efficient and "all-out" manner.

Free and fair discussion — the firmest friend to truth . . .

LIBERTY BELL

With the world literally growing smaller, and world problems becoming more acute every day, popular acclaim prompted the organizing of the Contemporary Affairs Club. The purpose of the club was to provide a medium by which students could discuss and analyze current world conditions. Programs of the year featured round tables, speakers, group discussions, and movies.

Membership was limited to those who pledged co-operation in meetings and attendance. The constitution, as formulated by Merritt Ludwig, provided for a cabinet in an effort to diversify the leadership and to divide the responsibility for the final acceptance of new members. Judson Decker, Jim Butts, Siegfried Hesse, Sally Birdsall, and Jack Carey made up the cabinet.

The club is under the advisorship of the social science instructors, Miss Heller, Miss Hansmeier, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Hutchison.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

WEST HIGH TEST TUBES

The Chemistry Club was organized by students interested in chemistry, either as a hobby or as a future profession, and has continued for the past two years in that same capacity. Only those students join who are interested and who have had chemistry the previous year or who are taking it at the present time.

The club activities include hearing industrial speakers on chemistry, special topics by individual students, laboratory work and trips to chemical laboratories in Waterloo.

Now that Germany under military leadership has made it difficult for her scientists to specialize and do research work in their chosen fields, Germany is fast fading as an important source of chemical knowledge, and America is coming into its own in scientific research. Some day everything except life itself will be made in the chemistry laboratory, and until that goal in the far distant future is reached, there will be much to discover and to study in the field of chemistry.

A chemistry club is an important medium in the fostering of interest and sincere effort in the field of chemistry. Perhaps some of these students interested in science will explain to us after years of study how the chemistry of the body produces even our personalities by chemical reactions, if that be the truth that lies hidden.

Equally adept at wearing the sock or the buskin . . .

The Marionettes have as their purpose the promotion of all dramatic activities in the school and the study of the theatre. Membership is open to all students who have successfully appeared in or worked on all-school productions.

VERSE CHOIR

We, the youth of America, speak . . .

The Verse Choir is one of the younger organizations in the school and one of the few such organizations in the high schools of the state. The group meets one period each day and studies choric interpretation of good poetry. Programs are frequently given before civic groups as well as for the student body.

HOMEMAKING CLUB

The home — the foundation of American life . . .

Rapidly becoming one of the major clubs of West High School is the Homemaking Club, which has as its purpose the development of activities and interests in the organization and management of the home.

All girls enrolled in the Homemaking classes are automatically junior members. Senior membership is acquired by application and the payment of necessary dues.

Chosen from this group are the girls who represent West High in the annual High School Girls' Homemaking Conference, held at Ames in the fall of each year.

Officers of this year are:

President .....Helen Psaros
Secretary .....Arlene Olson

BIBLE CLUB

For the promotion of Bible study . . .

Five years ago, Garland Gotoski, with the assistance of Miss Howell as an adviser, started the Bible Club. It was, therefore, fitting that at the first meeting, which was held March 8, 1937, Garland Gotoski was elected president. Richard Irwin and Dennis McDonald were the other charter officers of the club.

At first the meetings were held at the Y. M. C. A. and at various churches. Now the place of meeting is West High School. Membership in the Bible Club is open to all high school students interested in an understanding and appreciation of the Scriptures. It has as its primary purpose the opportunity for students to meet and study not only the teachings of the Bible, but also its literary beauty.

The club has had various out-of-school speakers at its meetings. Ministers and their assistants from the churches of the members, former members of the club, even missionaries have given of their valuable time to discuss subjects of interest for this group.

The club has attended various church services in Waterloo and Cedar Falls. Participation in social events is also enjoyed by members of this organization. They have had many good times together at parties, box-socials, picnics, banquets and potlucks.

Former members are always welcome at any gathering of the Bible Club.

HI-Y

The West Hi-Y Club is a boys' club open to all high school boys who are interested in and will stand for the high ideals of the club. The purpose of the club is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." The platform of the club is "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."

The club meets regularly on Tuesday evening of each school week at the Y. M. C. A. The meetings are devoted to club business, talks, and discussions of interest to boys. One evening a month is set aside for recreation.

Just before school opens in September, a conference of the Hi-Y officers, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., is held at Morris Isle. All Hi-Y officers of the area are invited to attend this three-day conference. While plenty of fun is provided, the delegates also sit in on leadership meetings and plan the year's program for the Hi-Y clubs.

About December first, the Northeast Iowa Hi-Y Conference is held. The national conference is held in June. The West Hi-Y Club is usually represented at these conferences, and the delegates bring back reports.

During the spring vacation the Iowa State Teachers College is host to the clubs of the area. A basketball tournament is featured, which has been won several times by a Hi-Y club. The year's activities are brought to a close late in May when officers for the next year are elected.

SPEECH

By their participation in debate, original oratory, extempore, interpretative reading, after-dinner speaking, radio speaking, and declamation, over one hundred students in West High have acclaimed that "speech is golden." This gold was variously found in the farcical antics of "My Daze in the Air Patrol," in the humor of antiques, in the interpretation of the loveliness of life, and in the serious discussion of the problems of contemporary life — price control, post-war world reorganization, industrialization, labor, and universal military training.

Shirley Bell in dramatic, Sidney Weissman in humorous, and Patty Paul in oratorical were the West High entrants in a series of contests sponsored by the Iowa Declamatory Association. Patty Paul and Sidney Weissman presented original selections. Sidney won second in the state contest at Traer.

In addition to numerous non-decision dual meets, debate teams from West High entered ten formal tournaments.

November 21. Decorah Invitational: Nine of West's ten speakers ranked superior. Sidney Weissman and Leon Tenenbaum were top speakers.

THE PIONEER AMERICAN WOMAN

December 6 and 7. East Waterloo: West won both the B and C divisions. Seven of West's sixteen speakers rated superior.

December 13 and 14. Newton Invitational: Winning seventeen of twenty-four debates, West placed third.

January 17. West Invitational: Teams from West won twenty-seven and lost thirteen contests. Among the ten outstanding speakers were Judson Decker in Division A and Henry Cutler in Division B.

January 30. Luther College: West tied for second place.

February 6 and 7. Coe College: Superiors were acquired by Jack Anderson in debate and radio speaking, Siegfried Hesse in debate, and Sidney Weissman in original oratory.

February 13 and 14. Brindley of State Teachers College: West placed second in debate. The oratorical contest was won by Sidney Weissman, and Judson Decker placed second in extempore.

March 15. North Big Four at Mason City: First place went to West in debate and to Sidney Weissman in oratory.

March 26, 27, and 28. State Finals at Iowa City: West took fourth place in debate, with Sidney Weissman and Siegfried Hesse winning excellent ratings. Sidney Weissman ranked third in oratory and Jack Anderson was top speaker in radio. Superiors were given to Carolyn Buker and Hollis Teske in interpretative reading.

W. H. S. THEATER

"The play's the thing"

It is with a sense of glowing pride and satisfaction that we bring down the curtain on the dramatic season of 1941-42. The first act of the season was the sparkling play of youth, "Young April," by Aurania Rouverol. A capable cast headed by Jim Heintz and Esther Shepherd delighted a large audience with a performance that will long be remembered.

The second act of the season was a fitting climax of years of study. "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," the Pulitzer prize play by Robert Sherwood, was given before two capacity audiences. The authentic settings, costumes, and properties, together with the stellar acting of a large cast, drew words of praise from critics and audience alike. The homely, tolerant philosophy of Honest Abe, portrayed by Bill Hoag, was extremely timely in a day darkened by the clouds of war. To choose a star of the performance would be impossible, so diligently did each member of the cast work for the success of all. We who witnessed and worked on "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" will never forget it.

The final and third act of the season was George M. Cohan's play "The Tavern," a mystery comedy. An ancient tavern, a thunder storm, and a cast that felt and caught the mood of the play, alternately thrilled and amused an appreciative audience and furnished a suitable conclusion to a successful season. The cast of this play included:

The Tavern Keeper's Son ..... Jack Anderson
The Hired Girl ..... Flarah Jenson
The Tavern Keeper ..... Harvey Clemmensen
The Hired Man ..... Ralph Winterbottom
The Vagabond ..... Sidney Weissmann
The Woman ..... Betty Esmoil
The Governor ..... Larry Butler
The Governor's Wife ..... Fonda Cain
The Governor's Daughter ..... Marilyn Tucker
The Fiance ..... Roger Brandt
The Sheriff ..... James Butts
The Sheriff's Men ..... Jim Ritner, Charles Dallman, Richard Reardon
The Attendant ..... Bill Hayes

Life is fortified by many friendships . .

The Friendship Club is the high school membership of the Young Women's Christian Association. The first high school group of Girl Reserves in Waterloo was organized in 1912, and the name at present used by the club was chosen in 1921.

The particular aim of the Friendship Club is to break down local barriers of school membership, religion, and race. Any girl who is a member of West High School is eligible for membership. The group usually numbers more than one hundred.

The cabinet meets at the Y. W. C. A. on the second Monday of each month for a potluck supper and business meeting, at which projects of the various committees are co-ordinated and recommendations are made for action to be taken by the club at its meetings on the first and third Mondays of the month.

LEATHER LUGGERS

With seven lettermen back, the 1941 West High gridders got off to a flying start by offsetting Clinton 20-12. West then captured a thriller from Roosevelt, Des Moines, 27-20. Both of these games were on the home field. The following week they journeyed to Mason City and chalked up another victory, 19-7. The next week at Davenport they met their first defeat of the season, 13-6. Davenport went on to end the season undefeated. With this defeat in mind, West prepared to entertain strong Tilden Tech of Chicago on their home field. Tilden had made a fine record and won the Chicago Public School championship, but West out-played and out-fought them to win 9-0.

The following week, West wheeled to Dubuque to romp them by a 45-0 margin.

Real sportsmanship, embodied in athletics, is an integral part of true democracy . . .

At home, the next week, playing in a pouring-down rain and on a soggy field, West High's "mudders" handed Fort Dodge a 15-0 defeat. McKinley of Cedar Rapids was the next victim of West on their home field, and West took them in stride 23-2. The following week was ideal football weather, and with the stands packed, West suffered defeat at the hands of East Waterloo, 26-6.

The year ended with a better than average season, with seven wins and only two losses. Irven Knox, West's outstanding player in both running and kicking, was rewarded for his brilliant playing by being placed on the Iowa Daily Press Association first all-state team. Knox received more votes than anyone else on the first all-state team. Gordon Bowen, West's rugged guard, was honored for his fine playing by being placed on the all-state third team. George Friedl and Harold Fiala, both halfbacks, were placed on the honorable mention list.

Letter winners this season were Willard Lohnes, Paul Glasener, Harvey Clemmensen, Bob Schenk, George Friedl, Harold Fiala, Irven Knox, Bill La Master, Jim Cozad, George Sorensen, Henry Frank, Norman Bevard, Ted Bruch, Gordon Bowen, Bob Johns, John Goodrich, Jud Decker, John Osterman, and Bud Tenenbaum. Of these, Glasener, Schenk, Friedl, La Master, Cozad, and Ted Bruch return next year.

The season scores were as follows:

West	20	Clinton	12
West	27	Roosevelt, D. M.	20
West	19	Mason City	7
West	6	Davenport	13
West	9	Tilden Tech	0

MUSCLE TUSSLERS

The success of perseverance
— 1942 state champions . . .

The 1941-42 wrestling season at West High will always be remembered by Coach Eriksen, Assistant Coach Welty and the team as the "perfect" season, as the grapplers went through the entire season against topnotch competition without losing a dual meet or tournament and climaxed the season by winning the State Championship.

The Wahawk wrestlers scored 237 points against their opponents' 66 points in dual meet competition. Three boys remained undefeated during the dual meets and district tournament: Season-Captain Jim Stoyanoff in the 105 pound class; John Andrew in the 135 pound class; Gordon Bowen in the 145 pound class. Captain Jim Stoyanoff was high scorer during the dual meet season, even though he sometimes competed in the 112 pound class and 118 pound class as well as his own 105 pound division. He scored 34 points to his opponents' 0, while John Andrew was a close second by scoring 32 points to his opponents' 0.

The West wrestlers captured the four-year-old Mississippi Valley Conference tournament for the third time. West scored 52 points, East Waterloo was second with 29 points, Davenport next with 18 points, and Clinton scored 8 points. The West matmen scored either first or second place in every weight class in this tournament held at Davenport.

The wrestlers next captured the Big Seven Conference for the first time. By carrying off six individual championships and one third place, West scored 38 points, East Waterloo registered 21 points, while Mason City and Fort Dodge each scored 20 points.

At the District Meet staged at Oelwein, West High won first by collecting 38 points, and the strong Oelwein team was second with 31 points. Eight grapplers representing West High qualified for the State Meet; six won district championships, and two won second places in their respective weights.

For the first time in the history of the school, the State Wrestling Tournament was held at West High. Eighty wrestlers representing twenty-seven different schools competed in the two-day event. Captain Stoyanoff successfully defended his state championship for the third consecutive year by defeating Diaz of Osage in the final match in the 105 pound class. Jim Stoyanoff is the first West High wrestler to win three successive state championships. The excitement of the tournament reached its peak when Harvey Clemmensen of West Waterloo defeated Greco of Oelwein to win the 155 pound championship and cinch the team championship for West. Dick Cumming climaxed his season by placing third in the 95 pound division. Oliver Michaelsen, the Wahawks' young heavyweight, scored a fall in the first round of the state tournament to add a point to the team score.

West High entered 32 wrestlers in the annual Y. M. C. A. tournament. The West High matmen captured six firsts, three seconds, and two third places. John Andrew, 135 pounder, won every match by a fall to become the "Y" champion.

West also won third in the team standing in the Iowa A. A. U. meet held at Teachers College in Cedar Falls. The only two teams scoring more points than West High were teams from Teachers College and Cornell College. Russell Bush, Leonard Slaughter, and Dick Cumming all placed in the A. A. U. tournament. Jim Stoyanoff successfully defended his A. A. U. title in the 105 pound class and thus won his 37th consecutive match, thereby establishing a new school record. Jack Wilcox, former Wahawk wrestler, held the old school record of 32 consecutive wins.

Although outstanding seniors, among whom are found two state champions, graduate this year, seven lettermen will be back for next year's team.

The season's dual meet schedule and record were as follows:

West	34	Roosevelt, Des Moines	5
West	24	Cresco	13
West	27	Osage	9
West	32	Fort Dodge	8
West	35	North, Des Moines	3
West	26	East Waterloo	11
West	37	New Hampton	5
West	22	Mason City	12
Total	237	Total	66

The seven-year varsity dual meet record while Coach Finn B. Eriksen has been in charge at West High is 51 meets won, 16 meets lost, and 2 meets tied. Highlights of this year's dual season were the sixth consecutive win over East Waterloo and the decisive trimming handed the Osage record-breaking dual meet team.

The sophomore wrestlers also enjoyed a good season under the guidance of Assistant Coach Welty.

TIP-OFF TAKERS

Organized activity teaches the kind of restraint a democratic society imposes upon individuals.

The West High cagers opened their season with a double-header with Dunkerton and Orange on their home floor. After dropping the first one to Dunkerton in a thrilling 32-31 game, the Wahawks trounced Orange by a wide margin of 56-19.

Meeting Franklin High of Cedar Rapids the following week on their home court, West High handed them a 35-29 loss. The next week West High journeyed to Mason City and out-scored that strong team 37-28. The Wahawks suffered their second defeat at the hands of the powerful Roosevelt, Des Moines, team, 46-33 on West's home floor. Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids was the host to the invading West team the following week, and again West went down, this time by a score of 43-35. Fort Dodge came to the West court the next week and handed the Wahawks a 42-31 defeat.

The first intra-city game saw East Waterloo win over West 40-27. West wheeled to Davenport the next week and was sent back with a 49-30 defeat. Iowa City was the next team to clash with West High, and Iowa City came out the victor 27-26. The following evening the Wahawks dropped a thriller to East Des Moines in a see-saw battle, which ended in East's favor 23-21.

The West squad began clicking the next week and slipped past the strong Mason City team by a close score of 45-43. McKinley of Cedar Rapids was the next victim of the Wahawks, who defeated them 30-15. 35-33 was the final score of the hard-fought battle between Fort Dodge and West the following week, as West dropped their eighth loss of the season.

In the second intra-city clash West Waterloo obtained revenge for the previous defeat by rolling over East Waterloo 23-18 on the East court. The thus-inspired West team knocked off the prominent Nevada team 35-20. West dropped their final dual meet to Dubuque 44-27.

West High was entered in the sectional cage tournament at Cedar Falls Teachers College gymnasium, where they first defeated Parkersburg, 49-21. Shell Rock was the next victim of West by a wide margin of 71-18. West met Cedar Falls in the finals and was defeated in a hair-raising game by a one-point margin, 26-25.

Before a crowd of 2,378 people West High overpowered Waverly High 32-25 in the Iowa Sports Front ambulance fund charity game held at Cedar Falls Teachers College gymnasium.

The sophomore team had an excellent season of seven wins and only two losses.

CINDER ELMERS

The 1942 West High track team came through with a very fine season. At the Indoor Quadrangular held at Cedar Falls, West High was first with 83 points. The West trackmen scored a first place in every event. West again captured a first place in the Teachers College Relays, scoring 47 points, and doubling the number of points scored by the next highest team in Class "A" competition. West High entered two relays, the 440 and the mile, in the Drake Relays. They scored third in the 440. In the Grinnell Relays, among a field of twenty-three teams representing Iowa's best in track and field, West placed third. The District Track Meet, held at West High, was captured by West, when they scored 96 points, twice as many as the second place winner, Marshalltown, who scored 45 points. West easily won over East Waterloo in the East-West dual meet by a score of 88½ to 29½. In the Big Seven, West ranked second.

Much credit should be given to Mr. Anson Vinall, who took over the late Mr. Boller's position of head track coach and did an excellent piece of work.

SHARP SHOOTERS

Perhaps one of the least-known, but as important as any other team in high school, is the Rifle Club. It had this year a membership of approximately one hundred boys.

The boys are taught marksmanship in their practices, and the proficiency acquired by many is pronounced. The club is a member of the National Rifle Association and participates in its bi-weekly matches as well as dual matches.

The bi-weekly matches are made up of two series. The first begins in October and the second in January. The regular season extends from the first of October to the first of April. The first series consisted of four matches, and the second series was made up of six matches. West finished the season at the top in the B division.

Three possible or perfect scores were fired during the season. Two of these were scored by Bob Chapman, and one by Sidney Weissman. Eight postal, prone position matches were fired.

With three lettermen, Dick Nauman, Don Bain, and Romane Clark returning, the 1942 Wahawk tennis team turned in an undefeated dual record for the season. In the Teachers College Invitational meet at Cedar Falls, West tied Ames High for first place. There were six teams entered. West High placed first in the Quadrangular meet with 12 points, 7 points higher than their nearest competitors. Dick Nauman and Don Bain, both of West High, played it out for the Champion of the Big Seven meet, which was won by West Waterloo with 12 points. Nauman defeated his team-mate, Bain, 9-11, 6-0, 6-4. West was represented in the District meet at Cedar Falls by Nauman, entered in the singles, and Bain and Clark, entered in the doubles, to qualify for the State meet held at Ames.

West entered the Franklin High of Cedar Rapids Invitational, May 2, and ranked eighth of the fourteen schools entered. At the Mississippi Valley tournament held at Iowa City, West Waterloo tied for fourth place. In the West - Cedar Falls match on May 12, West won by a score of 6½ to 5½. The West High Golf team was also entered in the District Meet at Cedar Falls, West - Cedar Falls High dual, East - West dual, State Meet at Ames, and wound up their season with an East - West dual match.

The team was made up of Mike Hartmann, Judson Decker, Bill Gohring, Jack Barber, Jack Swinehart, and Bill Kuhl. This was the third year for Mike Hartmann, number one man. Of the above, all but Decker and Hartmann will be back next year.

G. A. A. - SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS

Development of the body beautiful . . .

The Girls' Athletic Association, an organization having as its purpose the promotion of athletic interests among girls, is a unit of the state-wide organization for high school girls. The G. A. A. also offers a greater opportunity for leadership, stimulates interest in health, develops an habitual attitude of good sportsmanship, educates for wise use of leisure time, and co-operates with other organizations in West High in promoting the highest standards of high school life.

Any girl in West High who cares to qualify by fulfilling the minimum participation requirements is eligible for membership.

The G. A. A. endeavors to serve the best interests of its members by offering a wide selection of activities to satisfy a variety of interests. The various sports include soccer and speed ball, basketball, volley ball, track and field sports. These afford much enjoyment and recreation for the girls who participate actively in the G. A. A. program.

Officers elected by the girls this year are as follows:

President .....Loletha Koob

"FOR THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS"

HEALTH EDUCATION

Our nation was created by a people for freedom of thought and action and for the opportunity to work and achieve in their respective fields. Today we are fighting at home and abroad to preserve that American pattern for living. Health and physical well-being are a continuing and now paramount national problem. As has so often been true with great problems in a democracy, the American schools have answered the challenge of national emergency.

The second semester of this school year has seen our Physical Education program in our Senior High School almost tripled to meet the demand for a healthy and physically-fit youth. A physically-fit nation is our first line of national offensive action. The new program is West High's answer to an all-out effort asked of all patriotic American institutions in time of crisis.

Each boy and girl who is physically able spends one hour of every school day in a Physical Education class. The main emphasis of the new program has been placed on body building and health. A large portion of the entire time is devoted to calisthenics and related activities for the purpose of general body building, suitable to the age and sex of the particular group. We have endeavored to maintain the fourfold aim of a comprehensive Physical Education Program . . . namely: radiant good health and strong bodies, correction of posture defects, neuro-muscular development, and character building. These are accomplished by the enormous range and variety of physical activities embraced by the program.

The new effort has been received by the students in a manner unprecedented. The extra time spent in this work is added to the regular schedule. The admirable way it has been received and the enthusiasm with which it has been pursued is truly an exemplary attitude of American youth in our present conflict.

Besides the activities which are wholly body-building, a variety of others are included. Among them are swimming, stunts, combat activities, tumbling, games, dancing, marching, track and relays.

This generation of high school youth will not only be called upon to fight in our armed forces and keep the wheels of industry rolling, but will also be called upon to rebuild a war-torn world. They will have the responsibility of the reconsecration, in the new life, of the citadels of our newly-earned freedom.

West High has met the challenge in providing the opportunity to develop the paramount essentials to success in any endeavor — radiant good health and a strong body.

WEST HIGH'S ALL-OUT EMERGENCY WAR EFFORT RESULTS IN . . .

. . . a flood of nickels and dimes for "bonds today" as students rally to do their "Little bit in a big way."

. . . A "presto change" rejuvenation of Room 25, as retooling activities get under way in preparation for the community defense worker classes.

. . . circles of knitters taking many a "stitch in time" as students await the Annual photographer's "fire."

. . . Junior Red Cross girls working in a maze of color as they arrange blocks for an afghan to send "some soldier in a foreign field."
